

EMERGING LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

Building emerging leaders block-by-block

The shift from the fourth industrial revolution to the fifth industrial revolution has been accelerated by the COVID-19 global pandemic. This has amplified the need for leaders to upskill to be able to lead teams differently.

This course will prepare emerging leaders to lead with confidence, learn new management and business skills, and follow a deeply personal and introspective journey of understanding the self, and to better relate to and lead teams.

Course overview

This course will support emerging leaders to build new skills, build upon existing skills and sculpt their own leadership and management style to confidently lead. By the end of this course emerging leaders would have explored various key general management principles, as well as developed a deeply personal and introspective understanding of the self and how better to relate to and manage teams.

These skills will allow the emerging leader to harness their personal power, to make decisions in the context of their environment, and enhance their leadership effectiveness.

Who is this course for?

The emerging leadership development programme is aimed at emerging leaders, aspiring leaders and technical specialists transitioning from leading self to leading a team.

The programme will ensure that you build new knowledge and apply your insights immediately, so that at the end of the course you have confidence to hold your own space and guide your team.

- Leading with emotional intelligence
- Crucial conversations
- Developing empathy and trust
- Building effective teams
- Conducting impactful coaching and performance conversations
- Foundations in finance and operations management
- The future world of work
- Developing future-fit skills

Why is this course right for you?

The course is broken down into learning pods: Leading self, leading team, leading organisation and leading world. Each learning pod is supported by a coaching pod where your learning coach will guide you through application of learning to your workplace.

These learning pods are broken up into 2-hour virtual classroom sessions. All virtual sessions are facilitator led (faculty) and the entire course is embedded and supported by a learning coach.

The following learning pod conversations will be covered during the programme:

- Self-leadership
- Conscious leadership

Duration

55 Hours of virtual classroom learning over 3 months. The 55 hours are divided up over 2-hour virtual classroom sessions on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

How will you benefit?

By applying insights in real-time you will quickly build your confidence as a leader. This exciting programme will have you work on unique and challenging projects which aim to impact the self, home and community. The benefit is not just in the real difference you will make in the workplace, but in your home and community too.

Price

R24 426 incl. VAT

R14 656 incl. VAT

- Monthly payment options available
- Modular options available